"Thick mist and incessant rain are still interfering with our operations in the neighborhood of the Somme, but to the north of Oviliers we made substantial progress last night on front of 1,000 yards. Bureau of Social Research

Organized by the Governments of the Three Prairie Provinces

A Bureau of social research has recently been organized under the joint control of the provincial governments of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta in order to make a more careful investigation of general social welfare questions than has hitherto been possible by any existing government department or public institution.

The purpose is to give to the public a practical study of community problems with a view (a) to promoting a more intelligent interest in social welfare; (b) providing expert advice and assistance to any community desiring to organize its forces for more efficient citizenship; (c) securing information which will form the basis for sound and progressive legislation.

The functions of the bureau are two-fold—first, to secure information; this will be done through co-operation with public and private agencies and by special investigation; second, to disseminate such information by means of reports, bulletins, the public press, lectures, correspondence, etc.

Two kinds of investigation will be carried on during the first year—(1) The care of immigrants, with special reference to the Ruthenians who are settled in large numbers in the rural districts of all three provinces; (2) preliminary inquiry with regard to the feeble-minded, for whom as yet there is no proper institution.

The three prairie provinces have much in common and have already been co-operating in the establishment of institutions for the care of the various classes of feeble-minded, the blind, deaf and dumb.

Controlling the work of the bureau there will be, in each province, an advisory committee, and in each province an industrial minister and five appointed members.

When the organization of these committees is completed, the provincial governments from each will form an interprovincial council which will be responsible for general policy.

The Dominion Commission of Conservation of the natural resources of Canada, which is now carrying on a study of the natural resources of Canada, and the development and proper conservation of them, will be in the province of social research.

It is the purpose of the bureau to make a study of the human resources of the prairie provinces, and to make a study of the human resources of the prairie provinces, and to make a study of the human resources of the prairie provinces.

Some time ago a Brooklyn couple announced to the mistress of the house her betrothal, adding that she might expect to see her husband in the morning. The house was genuinely sorry, since the girl was a great favorite.

Months passed, however, without further word of leaving, although the happy man-made was a frequent caller in the kitchen. So the mistress was obliged to ask:

"When are you going to be married, my dear?"

"Include, an it's never at all, I'm thinking, mum," was the melancholy response.

"Really? What's the trouble?"

"'Tis this man—I won't marry Pat when he's drunk, an' when he's sober he won't marry me."

The Memory of the Dead

In several cities in Canada there are monuments to local heroes who have died in the South African war and generally a small bronze plaque is big enough to contain the death or so names. The monuments that will rise over the great war is a thing that will be different in that respect.

The casualty lists in one modern battle would cover the loss of the largest memorial now standing.

Stamps as Spy Messages

Arranged to Convey Information of a Naval or Military Province

The Italian Government has forbidden the exportation and the German Government has forbidden the importation of unused postage stamps, according to a note received from Switzerland by Hugh Clark, a New York Philatelist.

American dealers' supplies of stamps from Italy are thus suspended, and because they must come by way of Rumania and the Orient, whereas formerly they were shipped here by way of Italy.

The British Government does not permit German stamps to be sent out of Germany or the Scandinavian countries, according to local philatelists, and the French Government is equally strict.

The letter received by Mr. Clark carried the intimation that two secret codes based upon the use of postage stamps sent through letters had been discovered by the Italian and German authorities, and that these were required for the respective destinations of the two governments. Through these codes certain names and types of stamps, imported or exported, were said to be conveying information of military or military value.

Delicate Young Girls, Pale, Tired Women

There is no beauty in pallor, but there is plenty of weakness. Erection makes your heart flutter, your cheeks and lips ache, and you need something to put some ginger into your system.

Pills; they make you feel alive, make you able to do things, strengthen and purify the blood—then come strong nerves, rosy cheeks, laughing eyes, radiant good looks. You'll be helped in a hundred ways by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

Alberta Pays Up Well--Detailed Statement of Receipts by Constituencies Toward the Canadian Patriotic Fund.

Province is very little short of half million dollar mark, with two months of the year still to run.

The following statement of receipts in this Province for the Patriotic Fund account for the last ten months will be read with interest by all who have this great national cause at heart. As is well known, the amount required from the Province was allotted to the various constituencies last year, having regard to their population and ability to pay. As will be seen from the statement below, several of the constituencies have passed into the honor roll by contributing more than was asked of them. Notable among those are Didsbury, which passed the required mark by almost $4,000.00; High River by almost $3,000.00; Lethbridge by more than $15,000.00; Red Deer by $1,000.00; Rocky Mountain by over $13,000.00; Taber by almost $4,000.00; Canmore by $11,000.00; Sedgewick by $1,000.00; and Victoria by $3,000.00.

On the other hand, it is to be noted with regret that some have fallen considerably short of their allotment, and their is in one the unenviable position of having given nothing what ever.

The statement of amounts allotted and paid up to June 30th, follows:—

And this merely indicates the general saving in every item of upkeep in which the Ford possesses a big advantage over any other make of car.

An assembly of Ford spare parts—enough to build the touring car complete—costs only $40 more than the standard list price of the car, while on the average car priced around $1000 and less a complete set of spare parts costs $941 more than the car—over twenty times the Ford excess cost.

W. W. Naysmith of 89th Appointed Brig.-Gen.

That Lieut.-Col. W. W. Naysmith, former commander of the 89th, battalion here, has been promoted to the rank of brigadier-general—and has crossed to France in command of a brigade, is the report which has come from England within the past few days. Before Col. Naysmith left Calgary The News-Telegram announced that he had been offered such an appointment, but that he had refused it until such time as he went to England. Of late officer's wives writing to Calgary friends have stated that the anticipated event had come to pass, and now leading officers of the 187th, who were formerly in the 89th, have learned that Brigadier-General Naysmith is already at the front command either the third or fourth Canadian division.

If this report is correct, and there is every reason to believe that it is, no honors conferred in this war have been better deserved. A veteran of the South African war, W. W. Naysmith at once relinquished his practice as a doctor in Youngstown when the European war broke out, and unhesitatingly offered his services. With the first contingent he left this province, and at Valenciennes he was given his majority and placed in command of a company of a battalion which afterwards became known as the "Fighting Tenth."

During the charge at St. Julien, where his brother, a lieutenant in the same battalion was killed, Major Naysmith was shot through the lung, but refused to allow himself to be carried from the field. On being invalided back to Calgary, he was placed on the staff of commandant at the Sorel camp last summer, until the fall he was given command of the 89th. battalion. This unit wintered in Calgary and about six weeks ago left this city for the front.—Calgary News-Telegram.
